Curriculum Vitae (CV)

What job i'm looking for? My positive points

Having been both self-employed and employed by well-known companies for the past three decades, I have developed interpersonal skills based on the work done as well as life experience. I am well-spoken, well-read, attentive, and pay attention to detail. With the pandemic, my area of expertise has been severely affected but not my passion for the written word and overall good communication. An area that has always fascinated me is writing and still hope to make a positive contribution in this field. Data capturing, I have found, is not as dreary and boring as the common misconception, and from doing it, I learn new things all of the time. my typing skills are good and have edited, (with some paraphrasing !) a few authors so far although am not at liberty to mention who. I pay close attention to grammar, syntax, and the general flow of words to create easy to read structured writing.
