What job i'm looking for? My positive points

I'm urgently looking for a job, any kinda job it doesn't matter I'm willing to do anything. I can work long hours i can work late night i can work outside even when it's raining. I'm still young therefore i don't have experience from well known work places but i m willing to start somewhere and teach myself a trade that can bring me something permanent in the near future.I learn very fast i learn from myself and i learn from others too. I always follow rules therefore I do think my employer aswell as my colleagues will enjoy working with me and I'm also not area bounded so i can work anywhere and anytime. Please i need a job i don't want to be left behind in life. I'm not growing any younger but am growing older i also want to work and provide for my family.
