What job i'm looking for? My positive points

I am looking for Engineering company. A company that can give me an experience. After Matric i went to College to persude an Electrical engineering. i can be happy if my first choice can be chosen, To do a Learnership/Apprentice. I am a person who like to learn many things especially about work. firstly i wanted to be a Millwright but because of financial i could not then i had to persude an Electrical Engineering. I still believe that any position that i can be situated at, i can try my best to manage it untill i become a master. my background taught me many things about life amd i know that i can be good as i think. i need an opportunity to show my strength. all the preferred occupation i chose above, i really meant it. I can be happy to expore more. For now am unemployed and am trying hard to get a job ,so that we can have a bread at family.

Thanks for the time and consideration. I am hoping to speak to you about this opportunity.
