What job i'm looking for? My positive points

I'm looking for a job of cleaning because I've been cleaning back at home then I realised that it is something I'm passionate at .Cleaning means you are actually protecting other people from germs that may lead to diseases ,keeping your environment/house clean means you are actually a caring person and you have responsibilities for your health and for the health of those who are around you ,so yes I'm looking for this job to protect people from diseases. If I get a chance to proof myself I would .

Thank you
