Additional information

Your hobbies

I like learning new skills and recently I have been interested in exploring different languages as they help me explore new cultures around the world. I started learning isizulu and I have already cleared the beginner level. I generally spend my weekends focusing on exploring new isizulu words and watching isizulu movies to strengthen my grasp over the language.

I have played football since primary school and I have also been the captain of my team. I love playing football in my free time as it helps me unwind, relax as well as boosts my creativity and analytical thinking skills.
