Curriculum Vitae (CV)

What job i'm looking for? My positive points

I'd be glad to share a little about myself. I graduated from University of Zululand , where I majored in business administration. During my time at the school I had an internship at a large Fortune 500 company, where I was able to take an active role in their Human Resources department, receiving excellent career advice from mentors. I continued on at that company, up until my current job.

One of the things that I spearheaded at the company was creating a holistic view of employee care. I helped add to the company culture by creating initiatives to create a sense of community, even when we were working remotely. I've sensed that my major passion is to foster a sense of community among employees. My wife and kids have even mentioned how good I am about including them in games and activities. I believe I'm the ideal candidate, as I am passionate about helping you to continue the great work you're doing in human resources.
