What job i'm looking for? My positive points

I am looking for a warehouse vacancy since I have an avalanche experience in this field though working with different companies such as: Mr Price where I worked for more then 2 years and Kel Pack for 3 years. I would be a great asset to any company that acquires my services because since I can also do administrative work using the different digital platforms since I have a computer in certificate which comes with Microsoft word, excel and power point. Dealing with invoices and stock is in my blood.

I have also worked at an internet café which has added to my knowledge of the digital world and handling of customers and customer queries.
