What job i'm looking for? My positive points

I really enjoy working with people either face to face or telephonically. I am a people person and am quick to learn and grow so customer service representative is the best next move for me and I believe there's so much for me to spend and grow from in this department and especially at the great reputed company like Are.

My greatest and most positive point is my communication skills. I love being professional in what I do and enjoying it makes me to feel even more positive in what I do. Every time a customer says to me 'thank you very much, you are amazing' makes my day and empowers me to do better on the next opportunity again.

Although criticism is a great positive point too, it helps me to realize in what am not growing or which point and I tend to work harder on that point to build the skill for the better and for mt future career.
