What job i'm looking for? My positive points

It would be easy to list the multitude of clichés which most individuals would claim to be in possession of in this section, but I would rather just stick to the ones which there is clear evidence of. That being the strengths of dedication and commitment as made evident by my 15 year progression through the ranks in my current employment here at Incredible Connection. My enthusiasm for management, customers and my staff is made further evident by me trying to “better” myself by currently putting myself through communication and social sciences degrees at SACAP.

Furthermore my vast experience in the I.T as well as management fields in the highly stressed and deadline driven environment of retail I feel equips me to handle any task sent my way.
