What job i'm looking for? My positive points

I`m looking for an assistant nursing or doctorate nursing job with no qualifications of nursing. I`m looking for a tutor for this kind of job I`m asking right now because I have just finished matric last year with a bachelor`s degree and got no admission to the university for further studies. Apparently even a student job would be appreciated because I really need this job and some learning and training for better results.

I hope my concern would be constantly checked

yours sincerely
