My initial interest before studying was to work in the finance/admin environment. This is one of the reasons why I worked at Pick n Pay for one year(as a cashier) and at call center.

Whilst studying I was actively involved in extra curricular activities. The driving force e behind all of this was to develop the facets of my personality. During this process I garnered and is still garnering the passion for my initial interest which is finance.

In my view, customer service is the process by which we ensure a customer 's satisfaction with a product or service as well as carrying out transactions. That is why I feel confident that the opportunity to work as a junior bookkeeper will broaden my horizons and give me the opportunity to gain world class experience.

I live by a motto which states" You'll always see me struggle but you'll never see me quit"- with this I do appeal that my request for the position be looked into and be provided with feedback.
