What job i'm looking for? My positive points

I'm looking for a driver's job as I used to work as a driver some time ago at Skynet .I can also do administrative work as that is what I did at my previous job of being an inventory controller. I'm a very disciplined and hardworking person. Very easy to work with, respectful and humble. I have grown and matured in past challenges I have faced and now wiser to life. I can be a huge asset to the company in making it grow bigger than it already is now. I plan to make a difference noticeable to the company and peers alike. I urge the company to please consider me in jobs available as I am itching for a new and exciting challenge.
